

HOW DO YOU GET FROM THIS...

...TO THIS?!!

It's Time To “Green Up Your Garden!”

Perhaps you've left your garden plants standing all winter, (the birds and insects thank you for that!) but now things are looking a bit BLAH and you're ready for spring cleanup!

Not sure what to do next? We can help! Grab your garden pruners and come join three long-time wildlife gardeners as they share their GOLDEN tips for garden transformation. In this workshop, Patricia Sutton, Barbara Fiedler, and Christine Clemenson will help you to:

- Discover habitat-friendly methods of cutting back and dividing perennials and grasses, pruning native shrubs, and preparing food and water sources for your springtime bird and insect visitors.
- Discern which stems to LEAVE in place for native bee nesting sites.
- Detect how to preserve overwintering butterfly and bee habitat so that these emerging insects (read: baby bird food) don't land in the land fill.
- Dig up some baby seedlings from Clemenson's Demo garden to place in your own backyard habitat.

So grab your water bottle, hand pruners, gloves and sun hat and join us for a hands-on, info-packed, fun-filled morning of learning in the garden. Saturday, March 17, 9am-12noon.

Green Up Your Garden!

Hands-On Gardening Workshop
Saturday, March 17th, from 9am-12 noon
Clemenson Farms Native Nursery
108 Linwood Ave., Estell Manor, NJ 08319

Space is limited to 17 participants. Cost is just $15.00/person.
To register for the “Green Up Your Garden” workshop, email Christine Clemenson at cac.clem3@gmail.com or call (609)364-6890.